Magistrates to Examine Those Indicted by the Grand Jury, of Henrico.

MR. BRAUER MUCH AMUSED

Does Not Know Yet Whether He Will Bother to Secure an Attorney-Denials Made.

Ten indictments, now duly signed and ertified by the judge of the county, Honrico magistrates, and very shortly here will issue a series of criminal war rants summoning before the bar of jus ice the eight alleged violators of the Barksdale pure elections law.

About noon yesterday the County Court adjourned for the term after a record reaking session. Under the law of this State this session could not consume more than fifteen days, and the fifteenth

State this session could not consume more than fifteen days, and the fifteenth and last day had hearly passed before the business was done. Judge Wickham spent some time over the election indictments, getting overything into proper shape, and then declared the term at an end. All the cases were certified to the magistrates of the various districts in which the alleged violations of the law are said to have occurred.

It is now generally supposed that warrants will be issued under the indictments, which, as County Court papers could hardly be made the basis for a magistrate's trial. These warrants will be placed in the hands of the constables, and the eight man, including the State Senator, the county treasurer, the treasurer-elect, the commissioner of the revenue and some others, will be placed under arrest. They will then be admitted to ball and directed to appear in court upon dates yet to be arranged. Under the assignment of Judge Wickham Magistrate James T. Lewis will try Mesers. Childrey, Walter Brauer, Bryant, Terry and McDonough; 'Squire George W. Thomas will try Mr. W. H. Brauer, and 'Squire Friend Messrs. Todd and Stumpf.

As indicated yesterday, Senator Bryant does not recognize the Barksdale law or any indictment under it. He professes to be not the least bit worried. Mr. Brauer laughs a good deal when the indicatents against him are mentioned. They were both found upon the testimony of L. D. Green. Mr. Brauer said yesterday that he hadn't decided yet whether he would even bother about getting an attorney. Mr. Todd is sager for the trial, and expresses confidence in his ability to clear himself at once. His counsel are Coalter and O'Flaherty.

Mr. Walter Brauer, flatly denies the charge contained in the indicament against him. The part McDonough indicted is not the well known Richmond saloon-keeper of the name huit a voung man who lives

The contempt proceedings against Mr. C. W. Childrey for alleged tampering with the witness Valentine was left for ettlement at the next term of the court. The Commissioner declares that Valentine came to him and spked to know what to do. He (Childrey) told him that the thing to do was to tell the truth.

Governor Montague, accompanied by Prof. W. A. Bowles, of Staunton, paid a visit to the Richmond High School yesterday, and made a brief address to the pupils. There was no formality concerning the visit, though the remarks of His Excellency were wholesome and greatly enjoyed.

clearing James River water, communicated to the Academy a request from the committee.

The gentlemen of the committee had been much pleased with the interest Dr. Hoge had taken in the matter and the light he was able to throw upon it, even in an informal talk. They asked him to invite the Academy of Medicine to appoint a special committee to look into the methods of clearing water and to report to the committee that which they considered to be the most wholesome in its results. Dr. Hoge brought the action of the committee before the Academy Tuesday night, and much discussion was precipitated. The conclusion reached was that it was a little greater undertaking than the Academy thoughly proper to assume, and not entirely in its line. Such a matter would be better suited to bacteriologists and chemical experts, rather than medical practitioners. But the Academy sypossed the purpose and desire to ald the committee in every way possible as clitzens and physicians. The secretary. Dr. Peyser, will so inform the Water Committee. Southern Baptists Endorse Proposition of Association. Baptists throughout the South are railying to the call of the Virginia General Association for action by the Southern Baptist Convention toward solving the negro problem. Commendatory expressions are being heard from all sides, and sions are being heard from all sides, and Professor Mitchell, to whom goes the credit of setting the movement afoot, is receiving a number of letters assuring im of the cordial support of the writers. One of them comes all the way from Mercer University, Macon, Ga.

The religious papers are also taking the matter up. The Journal and Messenger warmly seconds the proposition for a commission upon the nears and then adds: "The Lord has not given it a wide field; but Ho holds it responsible for cutivating what it has, and no field in all the world presents a more favorable condition than does the very country in which the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention is expected to do its work. How can our brethren of that section fall to see that this is their opportunity and this their call?"
